About Translated Zendiwiki Contents

The Zendiwiki itself is bilingual, i.e. the user interface is available in German and English. You can switch back and forth between the two language versions.

The wiki pages and contents are available either in German or English or in both languages.

Complete bilingualism of all contributions is not currently planned.

The content structure and URL paths are also in English in the German-language section. For this reason, the page and path names of the German wiki pages are always in English. (This is mainly for technical reasons).
